Objectives and activities: This project was aimed to reduce barriers within education, training, and employment of foreigners (especially Romanians) and disabled students. It was also aimed to find out and define specific features of those groups, barriers to work in different careers, information, and special procedures required for providing them their needed services. The website is a suitable source of information for students looking for a job, a training course, or a suggestion for their career. The project was aimed to provide those students with a more efficient job oriented service. They also tested a new and convenient informal work guide through the peer to peer education method, which contributed with the evaluation of informal competencies such as communication and relationship patterns.
